About Us

The University of the Highlands and Islands is an integrated university encompassing both further and higher education. We are not a traditional university. We are different.

We are part of a new breed of tertiary institutions, the only one in Scotland and one of only a few in Europe. Based in the Highlands and Islands of Scotland, our distinctive partnership of 13 independent colleges and research institutions is locally based and rooted in communities, but with national and international reach, as part of a regional university structure.

We have 40,000 students at the heart of our university partnership and we are measured by their success.

Our mission

To have a transformational impact on the prospects of our region, its economy, its people and its communities.

What make us different

Our reputation is built on our innovative approach to learning and our distinctive research and curriculum – all enriched by the people, natural environment, economy, culture and heritage of the Highlands and Islands and its communities.

Our values

Collaboration	Openness
Respect	Excellence

Student life

Across our campuses there is so much to see and do.
